

JOHN HOWARD SOCIETY

What is John Howard Society?

The John Howard Society of Canada (JHSC) is a national, provincial and territorial Society comprised of and governed by people whose goal is to understand and respond to social and health related problems with a focus on criminal justice. John Howard Society (JHS) is a non-governmental organization and a registered charity that operates in over 78 communities across Canada providing more than 450 programs and services.

What does John Howard Society do?

Across Canada, JHS serves children, seniors and everyone in between, including both males and females. The programs and services of JHS focus on crime prevention, education, social justice, rehabilitation and reintegration. Many of the services JHS offers are preventative in nature and as such, are available to anyone in our community.

What does John Howard Society do locally?

The John Howard Society of the Central and South Okanagan (JHSCSO) is based in Kelowna, B.C. and is a registered charity and a non-profit society incorporated in 1989. JHSCSO has a long history of service provision to the Central Okanagan that dates back to 1956. We work closely with the local RCMP and other criminal justice stakeholders to ensure that effective, timely and meaningful crime prevention services are available to everyone in the community. By working together, we are helping to build a healthier and safer community.
